

"At least if they're drinking in my house, I know they're safe."

WRONG. They're not safe and neither are you. There are severe civil and criminal penalties for allowing underage kids to drink alcohol. Not only are you endangering the welfare of your child, but if the police come to break up a party at your house, you could be arrested.

*Teenage drinking is dangerous to your kids, their friends and other people—even at home.
It's also illegal.*

Protect your kids.
Protect yourself.
Put an end to the parties.

*This message brought to you by the
East Williston/Roslyn Community Coalition for Drug-Free Youth
An organization of parents, staff and clergy in the East Williston and Roslyn school communities*